OUR ANALYSIS

AVAX

Avalanche - The Avalanche Foundation launched Culture Catalyst, a program aimed at empowering creators, sparking innovation, and propelling the adoption of blockchains, resulting in an all-time high number of validators and an all-time high number of monthly active users.

BTC

Bitcoin - The application of multiple Bitcoin (BTC) exchange-traded funds (ETFs) could significantly impact Bitcoin's price. Various BTC-based spot ETFs from financial firms are set to launch, potentially introducing a new avenue for investment and increasing Bitcoin's exposure to a broader range of investors. This influx of institutional and retail investment could drive up demand and Bitcoin's price.

ETH

Ethereum - Ethereum, being the second-largest crypto, will have a positive impact by the ETF's, which could potentially be approved. This will expose a wider range of audiences to the crypto market and could drive Ethereum's price.

OUR ANALYSIS

OP

Optimism - Optimism is pioneering a path towards a collaborative superchain ecosystem—one where all chains are on a level playing field.

They have released Optimism Sepolia & Goerli, which is fast, stable, and scalable, attracting more Ethereum developers to start building on Optimism.

ADA

Polkadot - Polkadot recorded the highest number of one-day transactions: 1 million transactions on the Polkadot Relay Chain. Also, the number of parachains continued to grow on Polkadot. 50 L1 blockchains are now secured by Polkadot.

OUR ANALYSIS

MATIC

Polygon - Over the last month, Polygon (MATIC) achieved a significant milestone by surging past the critical resistance level. Now, as we closely examine its current price movements, it appears that MATIC is gearing up for its next move. There are strong indications that it might take a breather and consolidate, gathering its strength for the next big leap.

SOL

Solana - There are a lot of developments in Solana. Paxos received approval from the NY regulator to expand to Solana; a record 72,202 new fungible tokens are minted on Solana. Additionally, Solana Network's new and active addresses have reached an all-time high.
